

Markdown Quickstart : enough markdown to get you started

1. Headings

- Headings start with a hash mark `#` and are followed by a space. The number of hash marks indicates the heading level, a lower number indicates a higher level and the smallest heading is `#####`.

```
Heading 1
Heading 2
```

2. Hyperlinks

- Hyperlinks are created using square brackets `[]` for the text and parentheses `()` for the URL.

```
Link Text
```

3. Blockquotes

- Blockquotes are created using the greater than symbol `>` followed by a space.

```
> This is a blockquote.
```

4. Lists

- Unordered lists are created using asterisks `*`, plus signs `+`, or hyphens `-` followed by a space and ordered lists are created using numbers followed by a period and a space.

```
* Item 1
  * Subitem 1
1. First item
  1. Subitem 1
```

5. Bold and Italic Text

- Bold text is created using double asterisks `` or double underscores `__`. and Italic text is created using single asterisks `*` or single underscores `_`.

```
Bold Text
Italic Text
```

7. Centering Text (custom syntax)

- Centering text can be done using the custom syntax `::text to center::`. This is not standard Markdown but is used in this project for styling purposes.

```
::text to center::
```

8 Underlined Text (custom syntax)

- Underlined text can be created using the custom syntax `{text to underline}`. This is also not standard Markdown but is used in this project for styling purposes.

```
{text to underline}
```

That's it! You now have enough Markdown to get started on making resumes. Want to learn more markdown? Check out this
